Welcome to Mentoring with Healing Wounded Hearts!

Before we begin I want to be certain you have a clear understanding of our mentoring process. Our goal is to connect you with the resources and persons that will best serve your issues and concerns.

Healing Wounded Hearts addresses spiritual matters offering empathy, compassion and suggestions, leaving dysfunctions, addictive behaviors and other psychological matters to the professionals. (Trusted counseling referrals are available.)

Below is our Mentoring Process:

- Fill out Mentoring Information Form
- Take assessment
- Sign Terms and Conditions
- Sign Commitment Card

What does a mentoring session look like?

Each session begins with prayer. As we begin, I will be taking notes regarding the matters you discuss and relate them to the Scriptures and give you a Biblical perspective. As you receive awareness, you will write down the Scriptures that relate to the matter into a journal provided. This then becomes your daily reading and prayer. I will also suggest materials and videos related to your concerns for you to consider watching and/or reading.

By returning each week you will receive encouragement to keep on track as you build trust in the Lord.

Terms and Conditions: All sessions and personal information forms are purely confidential. Any cancellations must be given 24 hours in advance to prevent a charge.

*Time constraints: Time management is built into each session. Being on time is an important way to show respect for yourself and others. Sessions will be for the hour designated.

You will be responsible for a 1 hour session at $25 - A 2 hour session available at $50
